THE JUDICIARY.

The Washington Convention Begins
the Work of Fixing the Judicial System.

The Supreme Court to Consist of Five Members, Who Will Be Elected for Six Years.

The Two Dakota Conventions Simply Meet and Adjourn—Members Anxious to Go Home to Attend to Politics.

OLYMPIA, W. T., July 20.—The convention opened to-day with an affidavit from the secretary of the woman's suffrage bureau that a petition with 25,000 signatures had been burned up in the Seattle fire. The announcement was received with satisfaction by the convention, which then went into committee of the whole and the judiciary articles were adopted practically as previously reported. There were only a few minor amendments to section 3, the number of supreme judges being raised to five. It provides that the judges of the supreme court shall be elected by the qualified electors of the state at a general election. The first election shall be held upon the adoption of this constitution, and the judges elected shall be classified by lot so that two shall hold office for a term of three years, two for a term of five years and one for seven years, the judge having the shortest term to serve, not holding his office by appointment or election to fill a vacancy, shall be chief justice, and in case there shall be two judges having in like manner the same short term the other judges shall determine which of them shall be chief justice. In case of the death of the chief justice the judge having the shortest or next shortest term to serve, shall preside. After the first election the terms of the judges elected shall be six years from and after the first Monday in January. If a vacancy occurs the governor shall appoint a person to hold office until the election and qualification of a judge to fill the vacancy. The term of office of judges of the supreme court first elected shall commence as soon as the state shall have been admitted into the union and continue for the term herein provided, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The sessions of the supreme court shall be held at the seat of government, and the judges shall provide for the convening of the court. The convention will take up the preamble and bill of rights Monday.

Did No Business.
SIOUX FALLS, Dak., July 20.—The convention met and adjourned without transacting any business whatever. About two-thirds of the reports of the standing committees had been submitted, a greater part of which had been made a special order for next Tuesday. While there is some dissatisfaction with the work of the committee in arranging the judicial districts, and while a minority report will probably be submitted, there is no doubt that the majority report will be adopted when it comes before the convention. The minority is in favor of a "shoe string" form of districts—that is, one county in width and extending across the entire state, making the counties in the Jim River valley the centers of the districts. The majority favored a more compact form.

The Australian System.
BISMARCK, July 20.—The constitutional convention adjourned to-day without the transaction of any business, save the introduction of two articles. These were that all elections shall be by secret ballot, that ballots shall be provided by the state and counted respectively. All electors must be registered ninety days before the day of election; also providing that the only purpose for which funds may be used before or after the election, for the election of or his agent shall be the renting of halls for meetings, posting circulars, newspaper advertising and the payment of public speakers and traveling expenses.

PARIS, July 20.—Mr. Constans, minister to the interior, has decided to form a body of police, consisting of 100 men, apart from the regular force, whose special duties it shall be to suppress seditious assemblies. The National says: The government proposes to warn the electors that Gen. Boulanger is ineligible as a candidate for the councils general.

TIMBER ENTRIES.

An Important Order Issued by Secretary Noble.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Secretary Noble to-day, in a letter to the commissioner of the general land office, modified in a very important particular the application of the rule as to the time of certain timber culture cases. The timber culture act of June 14, 1887, provides that any person who shall plant, protect and keep in a healthy growing condition for eight years, ten acres of timber in any quarter section on any of the public lands of the United States shall be entitled to a patent at the expiration of the said eight years on making proof. Before Commissioner Sparks' time arduous was made to compute the period of cultivation from the date of entry. June 27, 1887, Commissioner Sparks, in a circular to registers and receivers directed: "In computing the period of cultivation the time runs from the date when the total number of trees or seedlings required by the act were planted," and final proofs of entries were not having complied with this rule were rejected. Secretary Noble, in his letter to the commissioner, modified the ruling made by Sparks, but says: "In as much as the department has been made aware of the mistake of the bill up to June 27, 1887, erroneously construed the true spirit and intent of the act, and in pursuance thereof, the entries have been made under the law as promulgated, amounting to some 2,500, such entries should be protected under the construction now given. The act giving such construction had all the force and effect of law."

FATAL SOUTHERN FEUD.

The War of the Simpsons and the Howtons Results in Several Deaths.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 20.—For several years a feud has existed between the families of Simpson and Howton of this county. It began by Tom Simpson killing one of the Howtons. Simpson was released on bail, which he subsequently forfeited and a reward of $300 was offered for his arrest. The next tragedy was the death of another Howton by a shot from ambush, as he was riding along the road. Recently officers have been trying to arrest Tom Simpson, who was known to be in the vicinity. Last night Sheriff Glenn, Scroggins and W. B. Morgan, with the assistance of two of the Howtons, surrounded Simpson in a gin house where he was with two other men. At daylight Tom came out looking around and was promptly ordered by Scroggins to throw up his hands and surrender. Instead of doing so he rushed back to the house, but was met by a bullet from J. B. Howton's gun and fell dead. Almost at the same instant two guns were fired from the house, killing Deputy Morgan and fatally wounding Scroggins. The inmates of the ginhouse, whoever they are, have barricaded the house and defy arrest. J. C. Howton came to the house for assistance, leaving Scroggins on guard. The sheriff at once dispatched several deputies armed with Winchester to the scene of the difficulty.

The Great Salt Trust.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 20.—The Northern American Salt company filed articles of incorporation in the secretary of state's office to-day. The capital is $15,000,000, divided in 275,000 shares of $50 each. The principal of the business will be located in Warsaw, N. Y., but will also carry on business in Ohio, West Virginia, Kansas, Texas and Michigan.

New York, July 20.—The New North American Salt company occupies two columns in the evening papers with an advertisement. The capital stock is $15,000,000. The company proposes to issue $4,000,000 worth of bonds. The advertisement states the object is to unify and systematize the salt interests of the country. The prospectus states arrangements are made for the purchase or control of nearly all the existing salt producing properties along the North American continent. The company insists that it is not a trust and as proof states that anybody may buy the stock who will pay for it.

LONDON, July 20.—The amount of capital stock in the American Salt company reserved for Great Britain has already been subscribed by shareholders in the salt union.

T., calling attention to complaints of excessive delays in the passing and in inspection of teas at that port, and requesting him to be less dilatory in the future. The bullet struck her arm and the woman escaped by jumping from a second story window to the pavement, not sustaining very serious injuries. When Daly found the woman had escaped he turned the revolver upon himself and inflicted a fatal wound.

Irrigation in Montana.
Washington special: Maj. Powell, in his report to the secretary on the matter of irrigation, says that one of the problems to be solved in Montana is the general character of the work which will be required to bring the water upon the higher lands, which latter are vast in extent and generally deficient in water supply.

SPORTING RECORD.

Good Races at Livingston Witnessed by a Large Crowd, Much Money Changing Hands.

Big Attendance at the Last Day of the Chicago Meeting—The Winners at Monmouth Park.

A Slugging Match at Livingston Declared a Draw—Kilrain and Sullivan—Record of the League Games.

LIVINGSTON, July 20.—[Special to the Independent.]—Nearly 1,000 people assembled at the race track near town this afternoon to witness the races arranged some time ago. The event of the day was to have been the 600 yards running race between Dave Kemp's Sorrel John and Eddie R. owned by C. M. Tate, of Bozeman, for $500 a side. Tate's horse, it was claimed, had been sick, and was in no condition to run the race. The race was declared off, and the forfeit money, $100, was paid to Kemp.

The first race called was 600 yards pony race, with three to start: Blue Dick, owned by Cy Mounts, Bay Billy, belonging to C. B. Mendall and J. Kilne's Creamy. The first heat resulted in a tie between Blue Dick and Bay Billy, and was declared a dead heat.

The trotting race was then called, the entries being Tommy, owned by Hon. J. A. Savage; William Wright's Buck, and Brown Tom, a Springfield horse entered to finish. Buck had the pole and kept it to the finish, winning the first heat in 3:07. After this heat the running race was called again, and was won by Bay Billy by about a neck, Blue Dick second, and Creamy, (who was 'given another chance), about five lengths.

The second heat of the trotting race resulted in a victory for Tommy; Buck second. Time, 3:10.

There was considerable difficulty in getting a start in the third heat, the horses many times scoring, only to be sent back by the judges. In this heat Tommy acted badly, several times breaking and losing ground, while Buck got down to his best, winning the heat and race. Time, 3:06.

Hon. A. R. Joy, member of the constitutional convention from this district, came down from Helena to attend the races to-day, and it is said put his money freely on the right horse.

Livingston Sluggers.
LIVINGSTON, July 20.—[Special to the Independent.]—The two-ounce glove contest between Jim Donovan and John L. Raymond (colored), in which Donovan agreed to knock Raymond out in two rounds or forfeit $25, took place in the new annex to the Livingston hotel to-night. The city marshal interfered and would not allow two-ounce gloves to be used, and six-ounce were substituted. There was some lively knocking in the first round, and Raymond fouled by reaching Donovan about the waist and holding to avoid punishment. In the second round Raymond also fouled and Donovan threw down the gloves and refused to fight. The referee, Cy Mount, decided the contest a draw.

Arrangements were made to fight the battle over with two-ounce gloves to-morrow within five miles of town. Both men have their blood up, and the fight to-morrow promises to be an interesting one. About 300 people witnessed the fight and all seemed pretty well satisfied with the result.

After Kilrain.
BALTIMORE, July 20.—Detective Norris, who has spent the last two days in New York, looking for Mitchell and Pony Moore, arrived here this morning to arrest Jake Kilrain and Johnny Murphy. He handed Marshal Frey the requisition papers signed by the governor of Mississippi. The marshal said the requisition was useless, as it did not specify the state of Maryland or bear the countersign of Gov. Jackson. Norris went up to Jake's house, but he had been spirited away by friends.

STARVING CANADIANS.

A Failure of Crops and Much Suffering in Consequence.

GRAFTON, Dak., July 20.—Crops in the Canadian northwest and along the Dakota line are in bad shape. Farmers are almost destitute. Some instances are reported where they are subsisting on field mice and gophers. In the Canadian northwest the crops are nil. A party of emigrants from the Lourie country traveled 300 miles through a well settled country on the Canadian side without seeing a fair crop, and say a great many settlers are leaving the land to drive their cattle to a timbered country on this side. Some families looked famine-stricken and have eaten nothing but potatoes and turnips for some months. MINNEAPOLIS, July 20.—A Winnipeg special says the story originating at Grafton, Dak., that settlers in the Canadian northwest have been reduced to eating field mice and gophers is a lie. The chances are that two-thirds of the crop will be harvested and there is no destitution anywhere.

IN THE BALANCE.

The Fate of the Transcontinental Association to Be Decided In a Few Days.

The Notice of the Northern and Southern Pacific Roads to Withdraw Brings the Crisis.

The Northern Link May Be Kept in but the Intention of the Other Is Believed to Be Fixed.

CHICAGO, July 20.—A meeting which will probably determine the fate of the Transcontinental railway association began here to-day, but owing to the absence of several representatives of important lines adjourned until Monday next. The association has just reached a critical period of its existence, both the Southern and Northern Pacific roads having given notice of withdrawal. Should they persist in their intentions it would be folly to attempt to continue the association. Efforts will be made to persuade them to reconsider their action, and in the case of the Northern Pacific there is hope of success. Traffic Manager Hannaford said that he thought the matter would be amicably adjusted as far as his road was concerned. But the grievance of the Southern Pacific is the competition of the Canadian Pacific. It claims that the unreasonable differentials allowed that road, coupled with its freedom from legal restrictions, has enabled it to absorb the bulk of the Pacific coast traffic, and the American lines are powerless to meet the competition while remaining members of the association. Strangely enough, representatives of the Canadian Pacific are in attendance asking still further differentials on San Francisco traffic, so the prospect for an adjustment of existing difficulties is not bright.

A DOSE OF CROWBAR.

The Peculiar Verdict Rendered by a Jury in a Murder Case.

MISSOULA, July 20.—[Special to the Independent.]—In a dispute over land and on account of a long standing feud, J. H. Happer was killed by Megness Samuth, four miles from Selah, in the Flathead lake country. From limited information it is learned that Happer went to the house of his slayer and began to abuse him. Samuth hit him with a chair and afterwards in the scarp got hold of a crowbar and struck Happer across the chest. Happer walked about 300 yards, dropped down in a fence corner and died. The coroner's jury rendered the verdict that he met his death from disease.
